NEW FISCAL PLAN FOR BRITAIN

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain Outlines His Policy.
MAKES ADDRESS IN CITY OF GLASGOW

He Pays a High Tribute to Premier Balfour.

SAYS HE IS LEADER OF GREATEST COURAGE

The Former Secretary of the Colonies Makes an Earnest Appeal for a Change in Policy Which He Says is Disintegrating the British Empire.

(By Associated Press.)
GLASGOW, October 6.—Walter was the opinion held regarding the great question which Mr. Chamberlain has raised or the probable issue of his campaign, it is generally admitted that he has opened it in a masterly manner, befitting the momentous occasion, and that he can no longer be accused of nebulosity in presenting his case.

As though inspired by the knowledge that the practical collapse and breaking up of the Unionist party left him in sole possession of the field, he spoke with more than his customary energy and persuasiveness, lacking nothing in lucidity, either in phrase or argument, whilst his appeal to the working classes, upon whom, more than any section of the community, especially since the defection of the Duke of Devonshire from the Unionist administration, the success or failure of the Unionist scheme will depend, was eminently calculated to enlist their support.

It was an inspiring scene within St. Andrew's Hall, within which he delivered his speech. Every corner of the auditorium was packed with men and women, cheering, singing and waving handkerchiefs, as the chairman, Sir Matthew Arthur, led Mr. Chamberlain to the platform. A distinguished company of speakers and members of the House of Commons was present, with a host of ladies, including Mrs. Chamberlain, in the reserved gallery. When the applause which greeted his arrival had subsided, Mr. Chamberlain began to speak, and in addition to encouraging cheers from time to time in the course of his oration, he was greeted at the close with a great demonstration.

The former Colonial Secretary, commencing his speech, said that his first duty was to thank the great representative body for offering him the first time in some detail his views on the subject of the fiscal policy in the city from which free trade first took birth, and in which it was now being reborn.

MR. JAMES GASKIE MAY BE IN RAGE

Seriously Thinking of Entering Contest for the Mayoralty.

It seems now very likely that Mr. James Gaskie will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination of Mayor of Richmond next year, though the popular lawyer and former Councilman is not yet ready to make any formal announcement either for or against.

For the past four or five months, strong and influential friends of Mr. Gaskie have been urging him to consider the advisability of entering the contest, and he is now giving the matter a good deal of thought.

He was seen at his home by a representative of The Times-Dispatch last night. Mr. Gaskie said: "It is true that I am considering the question of running for Mayor next year, in response to the urgent request of a large number of friends, but at present I have reached no definite conclusion on the subject. I feel very grateful to those who have thought me worthy of the honor, and I shall give the matter my earnest consideration."

GREAT TENSION IS OBSERVABLE

As Date for Russian Evacuation of Manchuria Approaches.

(By Associated Press.)
YOKAHOMA, Oct. 6.—With the approach of October 8th, the nominal date for Russia's evacuation of Manchuria, great tension is observable among the Japanese populace, but in diplomatic circles, it is reaffirmed that hopefulness prevails of an amicable settlement of the imbroglio between Russia and Japan on the basis of minor concessions by Russia in Korea and Manchuria, though officials do not profess to expect that the evacuation of Manchuria will be effected on the exact date named.

Popular feeling in Japan is exasperated at Russia's dilatory tactics, and the excitement has been aggravated by the disclosure of the fact that she is constantly circulating rumors of fresh Russian aggressions.

MINISTER'S SON NEARLY KILLS HIM

Attacked Father as He Came from Church.

STABBED HIM THIRTEEN TIMES

One Wound Is In the Throat and May Be Fatal.

DISOBEDIENCE WAS ORIGIN OF TROUBLE

Father Threshed Young Man Soundly for Refusing to Do His Bidding, and May Pay With His Life—He Asks that His Son Be Not Prosecuted.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
VALDOSTA, GA., Oct. 6.—Just as he stepped from the church at Argyle, in Clinch county, where he preached last night, Rev. Richard James, a prominent minister of the Primitive Baptist Church, was attacked and cut to pieces by his son, Seward James, whom he had chastised just before the service began.

The young man, who is twenty-two years old, stabbed his father in thirteen places. One of the wounds is in the throat and fears are entertained that it may prove fatal.

The trouble arose over the refusal of the son to do the father's bidding. When the wagon which the family rode reached the church, it was found that the tall gate was missing and Seward was told to go back and find it. When he refused the father declared his purpose to rule in his family and gave the rebellious son a sound thrashing. This angered Seward to such an extent that he waited for his father after procuring a knife and assaulted him as soon as he left the church.

WATCH BESIDE DEAD WARRIOR

MOYNIHAN IS FAVORED

His Model of Stuart Monument May Win.

ALL MAY BE REJECTED

Committee to Meet To-Night, and the Result is Somewhat in Doubt—To Be a Well-Attended Session.

The contest among artists for the honor and "business" of designing the equestrian statue of General J. E. B. Stuart promises now to be far more interesting than at first thought.

From what can be learned here and there, the majority of the members of the committee who reside in Richmond think that the best model for the proposed statue is that of Fred Moynihan, formerly of Richmond, but now located in New York city.

The appearance of General Fitzhugh Lee and Major A. R. Venable, of Farmville, on the scene, has considerably complicated matters.

It is understood that they favor the model of Moynihan, also of New York. It is said that General Lee is very much more impressed with that of Moynihan than any other, while Major Venable is possibly open to a little argument and might be blown over to vote for Moynihan's.

But the reported division in the committee in taste is likely to be productive of some interesting voting to-night, when the first formal meeting will be held.

One of Three Courses.

It must not be understood that any member of the committee has voted for this or that, but all the models have been seen by all of the members of the committee. Those who think that General Lee and Major Venable have all expressed opinions. From what can be learned of these expressions, all gave General Lee and Major Venable the most abundant praise to the point of the statue, General Lee and Major Venable, it is reported, visited the hall together, and came away convinced that the model of Moynihan is the best. The real contest is going to be between these two models.

Those who think that Moynihan is the most desirable are able to see many good points in the model of Moynihan, and probably vice versa. Certain.

GROUT IS DROPPED BY THE FUSIONISTS

Frederick W. Hinricks Put in His Place as Candidate for Comptroller.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Frederick W. Hinricks, of Brooklyn, was selected by the fusion committee to be the candidate for comptroller, to succeed Edward M. Grout. No candidate for president of the Board of Aldermen was selected, adjournment being taken until to-morrow afternoon.

The motion to select was made by Samuel L. Woodruff and was adopted unanimously.

The only development of interest early in the day was a statement by State Senator Patrick H. McCarren, organized for the fusion, that he intended to support the Democratic ticket, including both Grout and Farnes. He did this, he said, because they had been nominated at the city Democratic convention.

Mayor Low said to-day that he had written his last letter to Mr. Grout in the discussion which has been going on between them as to whether Mr. Low at first approved the acceptance of a Tammany endorsement by Mr. Grout. "That incident is closed," he said. He declined to talk politics.

CHICAGO CITY EMPLOYEES TO BE CLOSELY WATCHED

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, October 6.—After hearing an explanation from Mayor Harrison concerning the municipal "graft" charges, the Chicago City Council last night voted to establish a system of espionage over the city employees. It also appointed a committee of nine aldermen to conduct an investigation of the city department.

Many People Came.

From 7 o'clock until midnight the casket remained open, and the people of Richmond passed through the Capitol and saw the face of the old soldier, the stern and gallant warrior. Hundreds of people came in from every part of the great city to look for the last time upon the countenance of the distinguished soldier and citizen, whose life, public and private, was pure and unblemished. It was very gratifying to the personal friends of General Johnson that such a large number of representative men and women thus manifested their esteem for the Marylander who loved Virginia so well that he left a beautiful home in his native State to spend the closing years of his life in the Old Dominion.

The man, as well as the soldier, was so conspicuous in General Johnson that on one occasion, at the hall of the Malvern Hill, General Charles Winder was in a tight place, and General Johnson came to his rescue. Writing of the incident years after, General Winder referred to it in these words: "This gallant soldier and gentleman, Bradley T. Johnson, came to my rescue."

Taken to Baltimore.
